

BIO DATA

Dr. Tariq Rahman

Distinguished National Professor, Quaid-I-Azam University, Pakistan

Tariq Rahman Ph.D is the director of the National Institute of Pakistan Studies, Quaid-i-Azam University, Islamabad, Pakistan and Tenured Distinguished National Professor of Sociolinguistic History at the Institute. He has authored nine books including Language and Politics in Pakistan; Language, Ideology and Power and Denizens of Alien Worlds, which connects the medium of instruction with world view, poverty and politics in Pakistan. His writings include articles for scholarly journals and encyclopedias, book reviews and contributions to various books and columns. Dr. Rahman was a guest professor in Denmark and Spain, a Fulbright research scholar at the University of Texas at Austin, the first incumbent of the Pakistan Chair at the University of California at Berkeley and has lectured or contributed conference papers in the United Kingdom, United States, Germany, France, China, Korea, India and Nepal.