

BIODATA

Assoc Prof Dr Pongpisit Wuttidittachotti

Head of Department of Data Communication and Networking
Faculty of Information Technology and Digital Innovation,
King Mongkut's University of Technology North Bangkok, Thailand

Associate Professor Dr.Pongpisit Wuttidittachotti is currently an associate professor and head of Department of Data Communication and Networking at the Faculty of Information Technology and Digital Innovation, King Mongkut's University of Technology North Bangkok (KMUTNB), Thailand. He received his Ph.D. in Networks, Telecommunications, Systems and Architectures from INPT-ENSEEIH, France.

He received an outstanding employee award in Social service at the university level, outstanding employee award at the faculty level, and university level in 2019 and 2020 respectively. He owns several recognized certifications, for example, CISSP, CISM, CISA, CRISC, CGEIT, CDPSE, IRCA ISO/IEC 27001:2013 Lead Auditor, PECB ISO/IEC 27035 Lead Incident Manager, COBIT 2019 Foundation, COBIT 2019 Foundation, COBIT2019 Design & Implementation, DPO, QSA, PCIP etc.

He has over twenty years of working experience in software development, network, security, audit, risk management, IT governance, standard and compliance. He also has been working as a member of ISACA Bangkok Chapter committee and Thailand Information Security Association (TISA) committee since 2015 and since 2020 respectively. He also was a consultant of Thailand Cybersecurity Strategic Plan 2021-2025.

He published a book "Science and technology" (Authorized license) for Thai Senior high school, a book "Introduction to Computer network" (Authorized license) for Thai Vocational certificate (In progress) and a best-selling book "Cyber Security: How to protect your data" targeted for all Thai people.

Moreover, he was an expert in panel Discussion: Supporting the Digital Transformation in APAC - Connecting the dots towards common cyber security standards, Asia Pacific Cyber Security Salon, 15 June 2021.