

Exploiting the affordances of Web 2.0 tools

(i) Collated 'What we want to know' using affordances of Google Form

- after pupils brainstormed in groups and keyed in the top three 'W' using Google Form designed by level teachers.

Objectives:

-to use to gauge pupils' level of readiness

-to enable a more focused content during brief to address what pupils want to know

-Pupils respond to the video clip 'The sparrow' after watching it

Appreciate what we have - iino

What is that (A very touching clip about parents. will surely be (3:21) Play ▶

The patience the father had for the three year old boy, was really noble. Not all parents can do that. We should have patience with our parents when they are old.

I gave my parents a handmade present that represented my appreciation.

I feel very touched and I can feel the fathers love for his 3 year old son.

The boy was rude to his father. We should be polite to them as their are our parents.

Brendan

I think that we should be patient with our parents and care for them when we grow up. To show that now, we have to help them lighten the burden they are carryin like buying thing that we wa doing chores and many

Cheryl

I can feel the love the father had for his son. The patience he had to explain that the bird is a sparrow. I am very appreciative to my parents.

I think we should take care of our parents even when they scold us

We should respect our parents at all times and we shall treat them the same way they treat us when were were still

Dear 4.8, Share how you feel after watching this video. Are you appreciating your parents? Why not share what you do to show your appreciation?- Mdm Chan (Click a post it and type on it to share. Remember to type

I feel that the father loved his son very much. I appreciate my parents. I buy them presents and make cards for them on mother's and father's day. I also help them carry things and do house chores.

Yes Lin

I can feel the father's love in this short clip. I feel that the son shouldn't treat his father that way. No matter how annoying his father is, he was the one who raised the son.

When the father asked the son what was that for only 4 or 5 times, the son got impatient but when the son as a small boy, he asked 21 times and the father did not get impatient, he answered at 21 times willingly. This tells me that when I am teaching or answering someone, I should do it willingly or else don't do it. - lei Ning

I feel that the son was disrespectful to his father but at last he know that he was wrong and hugged his father. I try to help my mother to do all the house chore chores when her spine was very bad..... by Jiang

From the video, I can see that the father is very patient and loved his son very much. Gladys

I can feel the father's love in this feel that the son shouldn't treat his way. No matter how annoying his was the one who raised the son. I always love our parents and not appreciate my parents. I help them chores and I gave my parents a present that represented my app
