SEAMEO-Australia Education Links Award 2013

A joint initiative of the Southeast Asian Ministers of Education
Organization (SEAMEO)
and the Government of Australia to promote education links between SEAMEO and Australia
in Southeast Asia
and beyond

In keeping with the aim of promoting beneficial education cooperation between the peoples of Southeast Asia and Australia, the Southeast Asian Ministers of Education Organization (SEAMEO) and the Government of Australia launch the First SEAMEO-Australia Education Links Award (2013).

The SEAMEO-Australia Education Links Award gives recognition and financial assistance to projects or proposals that demonstrate education cooperation between Australia and Southeast Asia to bring about a better quality of life through positive relations, education advancement, cultural harmony, innovation, and research.

The objectives of the SEAMEO-Australia Education Links Award are:

1. Showcase education, training and research cooperation activities and the value these have in fostering stronger people-to-people and institutional links;
2. Provide the opportunity for sharing and learning of new ideas on education cooperation; and
3. Promote the development of effective education partnerships between countries, organizations, and communities.

The Award

The SEAMEO-Australia Education Links Award seeks to acknowledge and reward innovative projects or proposals that demonstrate one or more of the following:

- effective and inspiring efforts of individuals, groups of people, education institutions or organisations to improve education cooperation and linkages across the SEAMEO region and between SEAMEO member countries and Australia;
- recognition of diversity of individuals and sectors in promoting cross-border partnerships on education and thereby inter-cultural understanding;
- support to integration/regionalization of education while promoting the importance of and respect for local wisdom;

The innovation will be in the field of education cooperation between Australia and Southeast Asia.

An entry for the contest must be either:

1. An existing project on education cooperation between Australia and Southeast Asia or a country in Southeast Asia; or
2. A proposal on education cooperation between Australia and Southeast Asia or a country in Southeast Asia, or within Southeast Asia, that could later be implemented in the Southeast Asian context, possibly in cooperation with SEAMEO

A winning project or proposal is:

1. Innovative and demonstrates development and/or implementation of an idea, a tool, a model or initiative that helps improve education cooperation between Australia and Southeast Asia or within Southeast Asia.
2. Effective and highlights the positive results of education cooperation between Australia and Southeast Asia such as:
  - transfer of new ideas between countries;
  - expansion of educational opportunities;
  - improvement of education quality;
  - formation of long-term people-to-people links;
  - promotion of mutual understanding;
3. Dynamic and involves various individuals and sectors in the promotion of cooperation in education between Australia and Southeast Asia

Examples of eligible entries

Entries could present examples of education-related initiatives (either ongoing or proposed) which are implemented or to be implemented in Southeast Asia and with participation of a country or countries in Southeast Asia and Australia. Entries could be (but not limited to) the following:

- capacity development for teachers
- support for development of curriculum and educational materials
- research consortium
- advocacy and networking
- media collaboration
- community-based development work

Initiatives and proposals should demonstrate the links created or to be created between a country or countries in Southeast Asia and Australia. Examples of these are cooperation in providing technical expertise, adopting/adapting noteworthy practices, technology transfer, and others.

Proposals however should not be activities that might be more effectively supported through the Australian Government's Australia Awards scholarships program such as scholarships and research in Australia. For proposals of this nature, please see <http://www.australiaawards.gov.au/>.
